Within the list(s) you may select any book cover for more information on the book, including reviews, similar titles, as well as the link to check the library catalog for the book.

Additionally, from the home page you can browse titles by age and genre to learn more about a genre that interests you.

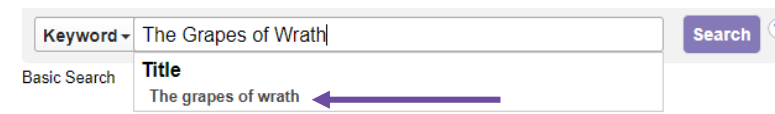

Searching

A powerful search box is at the top left of the NoveList Plus homepage. Its drop down menu shows that it can search by general Keyword, Title, Author, Series, or audiobook Narrator.

A great way to find new titles to read is to start from what you've already enjoyed and find related recommendations.

For more detailed instruction, book a one-on-one session with a librarian. Registration requires a Lincolnwood Library Card. For scheduling, contact Adult Services at (224) 233-1859.

For example, you are looking to find titles similar to The Grapes of Wrath. Search for The Grapes of Wrath in the search box, and click on the title when it appears.

Now in November (Jan 1934)

Author: Johnson, Josephine Winslow, 1910-1990

Description: A long drought brings hardship to the Haldemarnes as they struggle to wrest a living from their small farm.

Adult Fiction

Reason: These novels offer a poetic but unflinching portrayal of rural poverty in the Great Depression. Each story recounts the cycles of loss, endurance, and survival that defined this decade of American history in lyrical and moving prose. -- Christine Wells

Search by description

Don't know where to start to find something enjoyable to read? You can search by a description of your ideal book. Keywords you enter match descriptions and other NoveList book info.

For example: if you're interested in a novel about American spies in the 1950s. Find relevant titles by typing "America spies 1950s" in the search box and select Search to see results.

The screenshot shows the NoveList Plus search interface. At the top, there is a search bar with the text "America spies 1950s" and buttons for "Basic Search", "Advanced Search", and "Search History". Below the search bar, there are tabs for "Books", "Audiobooks", and "Authors". The main content area displays "Results: 1-30 of 34" for the search term "America spies 1950s". Two results are visible: "Little America" by Bromell, Henry, 1947- and "The director" by Ignatius, David, 1950-. Each result includes a book cover, author information, a brief description, and a popularity rating. A sidebar on the left, titled "Refine Results", allows users to filter by Audience (Adult, Teen, Ages 9-12, Ages 0-8), Fiction/Nonfiction (Fiction, Nonfiction), Publication Date (1959), and Genre (Spy fiction, Historical fiction, Thrillers and suspense, Historical mysteries, Psychological fiction, Love stories). The "Update Results" button is highlighted in the sidebar.

On the left hand side, you can tune the options in Refine Results to find a better match. For example, are you looking for fiction or nonfiction? What's the genre? When was it published? You can even refine by story time period, which is very helpful for historical fiction.

For Refine Results options above Genre select Update Results when you're done. Beneath Genre, results update automatically once you select them.

For more detailed instruction, book a one-on-one session with a librarian. Registration requires a Lincolnwood Library Card. For scheduling, contact Adult Services at (224) 233-1859.

Advanced search and browse

Click Advanced Search from any page to enter a custom search.

The screenshot shows the advanced search interface. It consists of three search rows. Each row has a text input field on the left, a dropdown menu labeled "Select a Field (optional)" in the middle, and a "Search" button on the right. The first row has an empty input field. The second row has "AND" selected in the dropdown. The third row also has "AND" selected. To the right of the third row are two circular buttons, one with a plus sign and one with a minus sign.

- Enter up to three terms from Title, Author, Series, Genre, Subject, ISBN and more.

Scroll down to see advanced browsing.

- Use any of the many check boxes, drop down menus, and text boxes to craft a hyper-specific browse and click Search at the bottom.

The screenshot shows the advanced browsing filters. It includes a "Starred Review" checkbox which is unchecked. Below it is the "Number of Pages" filter, which has a dropdown menu open showing options: "All", "equal to", "less than", and "greater than". The "All" option is currently selected. To the right of the dropdown is a text input field. Below that is the "Media Mentions" filter, which has a dropdown menu open showing options: "ABC: Good Morning America" and "ABC: Jimmy Kimmel Live".

Just browsing?

Hover over the Browse By tab at the top of the page, and select Genre, Appeal, Themes, Award Winners, or Audiobooks.

Browsing by genre allows you to choose from lists of genres like Crime & Suspense, Fantasy, Historical Fiction, and much more!

Browsing themes lets you dig deeper into the various genres. By selecting Romance you can choose themes like forbidden love or enemies to lovers. Science-fiction includes alien invasions. Fantasy includes themes like academies of magic.

Search by appeal

Hover over the Browse By tab at the top of the page, and select Appeal. Choose factors that really make you love a book and see what results you get.

Themes are popular and recurring plot elements found in fiction. Themes describe the overall plot, while appeal terms describe the storyline, tone, writing style, and other aspects of a book's content.

You can use appeal to find books based on the type of character you like, the pacing or tone, or even the style of illustration.
